Alfred Buckley, Esq., M.A.,

Toronto.

Dear Mr. Buckley:

I am rather doubtful as to whether there is any opening at present in the Department of English in University College. I know that Professor Alexander was looking for some one but I think he has re-arranged his plans. However, I am sending your letter on to him because in making nominations to the Board of Governors naturally I am always guided by the desires of the head of the department. I can quite understand how you would like the opportunity that teaching gives. I am leaving town now and expect soon to go to England so that I shall not be able to see you again until the autumn.

With kind regards, I am,

Yours sincerely,

President.

Dear Mr. Buckley:

I am forwarding the parcel containing some of your writing to Professor Alexander. I expect to be out of town for the next fortnight and then to go to England.

Yours sincerely,

President.
